

Manorfield Detectives.

Can you see the date carved into the stone in this wall?

Where do you think the wall is? Not many clues to help you in this picture. Where would be an old enough building do you think?

Ok, a few clues.

The brickwork to the left of the picture is a double gateway. There is another gate on the opposite side of the building, but it's only a single gate.

The date stone is not in the building itself but in the wall surrounding that building.

Can you guess what the building is?
